Use of your student's Social Security Number (SSN) on AP Exams

The College Board asks for the student's Social Security Number (SSN) on each exam. The SSN is not required but is optional to be used as a unique identifier on each exam. It allows for the most effective transfer of all the student's AP scores to a college or university. The school district does not require students to use their SSN and recommends that parents and students discuss the use of the SSN before exam administration.
